THREE DIE IN AIRPLANE FALL OF 300 FEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—When one of the passengers "froze into the controls," a Bristol fighter aeroplane containing Clifford Procter, John C. Nelson of San Francisco and Gus Jamieson, went into a side slip and crashed to earth at Redwood City last night, killing all three instantly.

The plane was 300 feet in the air when it fell. Among the 200 spectators who saw the accident many said they saw one of the passengers grab the controls from Pilot Procter, apparently from fright.

The three men were taken from the wreckage and rushed to the Redwood city hospital, but they were dead before arriving there.

The airplane was one of the British-built war "planes" which have been sold in this country.

Procter, who served as test pilot for the British Royal Flying corps during the war, had arrived at Redwood City to demonstrate the Bristol fighter. Toward dusk he took up Nelson, a tire salesman, and Jamieson, former instructor of the Redwood aviation school. They had been up only a few minutes when the accident happened.

Nelson has a wife in San Francisco, but the other men were single.

Old-Fashioned Bar Puts Two Behind Bars
Serving drinks across the bar after the manner prevailing before the national dry spell resulted in the arrest of Anthony J. Enos and Manuel Gonzales, 1717 Seventh street, by Officers D. Dantuma and C. T. Anderson last night.

It is alleged by the officers of the moral squad that both men were doing a thriving business selling "grappa" to all comers, and that no pretense of concealment was made.

Enos and Gonzales were taken to San Francisco this morning for trial before Commissioner Francis Krull.

He Claims Faith in Wife Dead in Hotel
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The body of Mrs. Alice Perry, a widow associated with Harold E. Perry, aviator, in a hotel room here, was claimed today by her husband, Perry Deverall, of Wheeling, Va. He said he knew Perry well. Despite the circumstances, Deverall said he did not doubt his wife's or Perry's sincerity.

SICK IN HOSPITAL, FOLK AT SEA HEAR RADIO MELODIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Not only patients at Letterman General Hospital but crews and passengers of vessels up and down the coast, "listened in" by wireless, on the Sunday concert at the California theater. A microphone in the orchestra pit connected with wireless on the roof did the trick.

The applause of the wounded soldiers and sailors at the hospital was carried back to the theater through a "magnavox" at the receiving end.

Eugene Roth, director of the theater, said that experiments made recently have rendered it possible to set the wireless apparatus so that the wireless code does not cut in. Herman Voornich, field director of the American Red Cross at Letterman, has written a letter of appreciation for the wireless music.

CIVIL SERVICE PETITIONS OUT

The drive for signatures to the initiative petition asking charter changes affecting civil service will reach its climax during the next few days. The petition must be filed with the city clerk by September 2. Within eleven days 6896 signatures must be obtained.

The staff of deputies handling the petition has been increased to eleven, with the addition of a large number of volunteers since the filing last week of the firemen's petition for salary increases. According to the deputies, more than one-half of the required number of signatures have been secured.

Instead of seeking the endorsement of civic, commercial and improvement organizations, as was at first planned, in addition to the approval already given by the Civil Service Board and the Municipal Civil Service Employees' Association, the campaign is to be concentrated on the drive for signatures, and the support of the various organizations will be sought when the issue is placed before the people.

The petitioned measure asks additional power be given the Civil Service Board regarding municipal employment and the scope be given civil service in the city government until it covers practically all municipal workers.

LAUNCHMEN END 2 MONTHS' STRIKE

Three hundred launchmen, on strike for two months, returned to work today. At a meeting Sunday afternoon in San Francisco they voted three to one to accept the terms of the Bay and River Boat Owners' Association.

The men demanded an eight-hour day and time and a half for Sundays and holidays. The meeting yesterday followed a meeting between union delegates and launch owners.

A new scale accepted provides $155 a month on launches up to sixty-five horsepower, and $190 on craft above that power. The men are to work two Sundays a month and regular days and nights nine a day.

Launch owners say the new conditions accepted practically mean an open shop. When the strike was called the launches were used on the Bay and San Francisco Bay. However, the craft have been operating with non-union men. The non-union men will be retained in many cases.

BANK BURGLAR ALARM ROUSES NEIGHBORHOOD

When the manager of the College-avenue branch of the Bank of Italy, Manuel J. Rossi, entered the building this morning at 7:30 o'clock, and opened the safe the entire neighborhood within several blocks of the bank knew about it. The burglar alarm brought two policemen and several citizens to the scene, and Rossi had considerable difficulty in convincing them that he was not a burglar.

On Saturday night, Rossi explained, a crew of clerks worked an hour later than usual. They left the bank at 11 o'clock, and Rossi, did not know that the alarm had been set an hour late, which would cause it to remain on until 8 o'clock this morning, instead of terminating at 7 o'clock, as usual. The bell told the rest of the story.

Narcotic Addict Is Captured After Raid

Entering his office last night and encountering a narcotic addict in ransacking the office in a mad search for drugs, Detective W. J. McLaughlin, of the Police Department, and Washington streets, grappled with the intruder. A fight ensued in which the doctor was knocked to the floor.

Attracted by the cries of the physician, Patrolmen R. H. Nedderman and Carl Oberg, 1003 East Twenty-fourth street, chased the fleeing man down Washington street and finally caught him at Tenth street.

At the police station the man gave the name of Joseph Robertson. He is suspected by the police that he is implicated in a series of thefts in which the offices of numerous dentists and physicians were broken into and drugs and instruments taken. Robertson is charged with burglary.

Banking Taught in Extension Course

Lectures on "Banking and Corporation Finance," by E. A. Kincaid, instructor in economics, will start this evening at room 237, Merchants' Exchange building, San Francisco, under the University of California Extension Division. The lectures will be held from 7 to 8 o'clock. Registrations are being accepted at the division office, 140 Kearny street.

More students are being constantly enrolled in the salesmanship class, which was organized by the extension division last Thursday by James Lynch, as instructor. Both courses consist of fifteen one-hour lectures, and the fee is $5.

James Fair, Nephew of Late Senator, Dies

SAN JOSE, Aug. 22.—James Fair, nephew of late United States Senator James G. Fair, and one of the most prominent and wealthiest men of the Santa Clara valley, died here last night following an illness of only a few days. He was 41 years old and unmarried.

Fair was taken ill last Thursday, but his condition was not considered grave. He died as the result of a hemorrhage, the cause of which has not yet been determined. An autopsy will be performed.

Although never seeking public office, Fair has always had a keen interest in all public matters of a local nature. His time was devoted mainly to farming and he owned 200 acres of land, including vineyards and orchards in the Santa Clara valley. He wielded a strong influence throughout Santa Clara county as well as the valley. He was an Elk and was otherwise identified with club life.

The funeral will be held Tuesday morning.

British Miners to Vote On Coal Strike

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Much space is devoted by all London newspapers this morning to the question of a coal miners' strike, which will be balloted upon this week, beginning tomorrow.

A vote of the subject, predict an overwhelming majority of the miners will be in favor of striking. The government appears determined to demand for a wage advance of 50 cents per bushel and a reduction of the price of coal to the public amounting to about $2.50 per ton.

POWER HOUSE BLOWN UP. HUNTINGTON, W. V., Aug. 22.—After an unsuccessful effort had been made to decoy the State police from the scene, a telephone exchange describing disorder at Rawl, a power house, according to official reports, was destroyed by fire.

The power house of the Boardman Coal Corporation's No. 2 mine was blown up by a gas explosion, killing three men and injuring several others.

The Boardman Coal Company has been operating continuously since the strike of coal miners in this region.

For Dysentery and Flux, Dr. E. J. Call it the best medicine he ever saw for dysentery, flux and kindred diseases. When used for dysentery or colic it must also be given. For sale by Oregon Bros. Drug Stores—Advertisement.

CHURCHES

Two interesting events occurred yesterday in Oakland Methodist churches. The opening by Centennial St. M. E. church of new quarters, at the corner of Twelfth and Magnolia streets, Episcopal chapel, took place yesterday afternoon with appropriate services. The pastor is Rev. A. Kennedy, and a large group of local clergymen attended. The services were in charge of Bishop Adams W. Leonard, D.D., LL.D., who also officiated at the dedication of the new quarters at Eighth Avenue M. E. church yesterday morning.

A church was given this church by James P. Reese, in memory of his wife, Elizabeth E. Reese, a beautiful woman, whose marriage occurred this week.

Special musical offerings were rendered by the church choir, directed by Mrs. W. Cook, and played by Charles Herriott, organist. Mrs. W. Cook also played during the day's program.

LEAGUE TO HONOR BISHOP

Episcopal churches of the world president of the Epworth League, who will be accorded a reception by the Epworth League of this city on Friday afternoon at the Epworth church, Oakland, will relinquish a considerable share of the honor to the Epworth League of Mr. and Mrs. Manford W. Bennett of San Jose, well known workers in the Epworth League circles, whose marriage occurred this week.

Mrs. Bennett, formerly Miss Agnes Patterson, of Redwood City, is a student in the College of the Pacific, at San Jose, where the romance had its inception. She is a student of the ministry, engaged in preparatory work in the same school. During the week she was a student of religious activity in the camps.

The League will be assisted in receiving their bishop by the Christ Episcopal church, Oakland, and the People's Church, Oakland. Competition is keen between the three organizations in the matter of work in the camps.

COFFROTH OUT; BASSITY IS IN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Those same changing fortunes which have removed Governor Cantu as a power in Lower California have exerted an influence far across the border to unseat the fortunes of one San Francisco politician, and put in his place a business rival. The proposed reform of Tijuana, it is announced, means that "Sunny Jim" Coffroth is to lose his race track and other concessions in the gambling town and that Jerome A. Bassity, local politician, is to be favored under President de la Huerta.

De la Huerta, who has been in favor of the removal of Cantu, for some time there has been a bitter feud between Coffroth and Bassity. They were at one time partners in the race track enterprise, but separated after a quarrel over the management.

TALKS ABOUT ALASKA

The subject of the sermon by Rev. Clarence Reed at the First Unitarian Church yesterday morning was "The Alaska Problem." The minister of the church said in part: "The great problem of our age is the Alaska problem. It is a problem which will be written which will contain an account of the explorers of Alaska from the time of Vitus Bering to our own age, a record of the heroism of the men who have explored the great northwestern continent, and an appreciation of such saints as William Duncan on account of his work among the Indians of Alaska."

"We read of Abraham journeying westward and settling in Palestine a land flowing with milk and honey. The resources of Palestine are insignificant in comparison with those of Alaska. We paid $7,200,000 for Alaska, and nearly $500,000,000 of gold, copper, silver, and fish products have been taken out of that territory since its purchase."

"Among the great prophets of Alaska were Seward and Sumner, as they looked into the future and obtained for our country a great empire. As reward they received ridicule and condemnation. The treaty was called by its opponents 'Seward's leech'." They said that the only products of Alaska would be coverts and polar bears. When Seward was asked in later years what he considered to be the most important thing of the government with which he had been associated, he replied: "The purchase of Alaska, but it will take the people a long time to realize it."

A WOMAN WITH A PAST

A woman with a past was the sermon subject heard at the First Baptist church last night, preached by the pastor, Rev. John Snape. Among other remarks Dr. Snape said: "It is a rare gift to be a good conversationalist. Most of us are good conversationalists. There is a difference between talk and conversation. Talk is broken, familiar, versatile, interruptive; conversation is continuous and sustained, and usually upon higher subjects."

New York once said he had dined with $25,000,000 and listened to conversation about them. They said he was mistaken. What he listened to was a woman with a past.

"Christ was a rare conversationalist. He knew how to introduce the highest subjects, to win the favorable attention of his hearers, and to elicit their inmost thoughts. Whether he holds conversation with a rationalist, a Jew, a Samaritan, or a Gentile, he was never at a loss. He was never with a woman with a past."

SOCIAL SERVICE COURSE, U. C. PLAN

To secure men and women of "broad sympathies and wide vision" for salaried positions as social workers throughout California, the University of California today announced one and two-year courses in practical and theoretical social service, registration for which closes August 31, according to the State Board of Charities and Corrections.

Because of the great demand for trained workers in public and private relief, correctional work, investigation work, vocational education, and advisory work in industrial relations, students after one year's training will be given salaried positions as executive officers of welfare commissions mainly. Besides university graduates, mature men and women who have had practical experience in teaching, social service and other professions, will be accepted at the discretion of the committee. There is no tuition fee for the university work, which requires full time attendance for nine months, to be divided between lectures and practical work in the charity societies, juvenile courts, medical, social service centers and agencies for housing, immigration and amusement. This must be followed by three months of continuous practice work in a personally selected agency.

Applications are being received daily from 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. by Professor William Kirk, 21 Wheeler Hall, Department of Economics, at the University of California.

Architecture, Law Classes Will Open

Classes in architecture and law will be opened in San Francisco by the University of California Extension division soon. It was announced today from the Extension office at 140 Kearny street, San Francisco. According to Leon J. Richardson, director of the Extension division, the plan of the courses has been approved by many of the most prominent lawyers and architects of San Francisco and Oakland.

The law courses to be given this year are along the lines of courses previously given. The course in admiralty and maritime law, which was started last spring at the request of a number of business men in the export trade, and prominent lawyers seeking special training, will be reopened on Monday evening, August 30, at 7 o'clock at 1937 Sutter street. On the same evening a course in commercial law will start in the San Francisco city hall.

BALL IS COMMISSIONER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Ex-Deputy U. S. Marshal Lester Ball was today appointed commissioner for the province of British Columbia, Canada, by Lieutenant Governor Edward G. Prior, according to notification just received here. Ball, whose business address is 948 Market street, San Francisco, is the first man residing in the United States to receive such a commission.

PRISON CONFESSION HOLDS RICCARDI HOPE OF LIBERTY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—A confession, which threatens to overturn the conviction of C. Vincent Riccardi, charged with embezzlement, and is claimed by him to prove that evidence has been framed in the criminal courts, today was put in the form of an affidavit to be used by Riccardi in the Appellate Court.

The story comes from Folsom penitentiary where Albert Rolati, twice convicted for highway robbery, is now reported to have declared his court evidence was false. The $1000 given by Rolati, according to the confession, was a fee and the tale that it was paid money, appropriated by Riccardi, was manufactured with the hope that it would be ordered returned. Riccardi, who has been facing the penitentiary, was married a short time ago.

SAYS HE WAS "FRAMED"

Of the confession he says: "They framed on me, just as Pete McDonough and I have framed cases in the criminal courts. This is just what I told the grand jury how police court judges were bribed and how they fixed juries. The confession will prove that innocent men have been 'framed' to the penitentiary."

Rolati is alleged to have said that in January, 1920, he testified that he had given Riccardi a check for $1000 to deposit as bail in a criminal case pending and that Riccardi has said that the money was given as a fee.

"The fact is, I paid the sum of $1000 to Riccardi as a fee for services rendered and to be rendered by Riccardi in defending me on a charge of robbery," says Rolati. "I did not give it as bail or for any other purpose except as a fee for services rendered and to be rendered."

Riccardi says that in presenting the confession he will call attention to the fact that it has been corroborated by the testimony of other witnesses and that it was solely upon the Rolati testimony that he was convicted.

Track Events of Olympiad Ended; U. S. Has 210 Points

ANTWERP, Aug. 23.—Track and field events in the seventh Olympiad concluded today when the cross-country and the 1500-meter relay races were run.

England won the 1500-meter race. The American team finished fourth.

South Africa was second, France third and Sweden fifth. Sweden protested the race, claiming it was started from a wrong point of the track. The Olympic committee is considering the protest. The American team consisted of George S. Schiller, Los Angeles, A. C.; J. E. Meredith, N. Y. A. C.; George S. Bretnell, Cornell College, Iowa; and Frank J. Shea, U. S. navy. The time of the winning team was 3 minutes 21.5 seconds.

Finland's team, led by Nurmi, won the 10,000-meter cross country race. The United States finished fourth. Guillemot, of France, the favorite, had to drop out after he had completed four kilometers because of a sprained ankle. England was second, Sweden third, France fifth, and Belgium sixth. Time of race, 27 minutes and 15 seconds.

The closing contests were held in the rain with only a handful of spectators present.

The games went into the swimming, boxing and gymnastics events following the completion of track and field play.

HOW MANY STAND IN SCORE COLUMN

So far as points are concerned, the results of the meet are practically settled.

Following are the final unofficial scores of the stadium athletics, the field and track events:

America	210
Finland	105
Sweden	95
England	92
France	35
South Africa	24
Canada	10
Norway	10
Denmark	9
Estonia	8
New Zealand	5
Belgium	5
Australia	5
Czechoslovakia	3
Holland	2
Luxembourg	1

More records were smashed in the Sunday events. Hannes Kohlenstein, the Finnish-American, cut down the time for the marathon by finishing the course in 2 hours, 21 minutes, 35.4 seconds, despite a driving rain. He ran for Finland because of the ruling that prevents a man switching from one country to another. Kohlenstein had previously competed in an Olympiad as a Finn. Lossman, Estonia, was second, 13 seconds behind the winner.

American sprinters broke the record for the 400-meter relay race, finishing in 42.1-5 seconds, two-fifths of a second better than the time made by the German team at Stockholm in 1912.

GYMNASTIC START

TUMBLING TODAY

Gymnastic teams today began work. Each nation entering team events was permitted one team of from six to ten members. In addition there are events for individual experts in which each nation competing was permitted to enter six men. American entered only the individual event.

Pass this all along the line

Thursday PM

Dear Pete:

Just flew into Pittsburg to close that N & P purchase while I was waiting for the contract to be signed who ambles in to the G.M.'s office but President Holt! Asked me if I had a cigarette. Slipped him my "Camel Garage." Remember, he hit the "straight" boys when I met him last year?

Pete, you ought to hear Mr. Holt talk Camels! Gee, I thought I was some Camel speaker. But he went right to the meat with the subject. Say, if I could have shorthanded that line of super-stuff I'd have the job writing Camel ads by noon today!

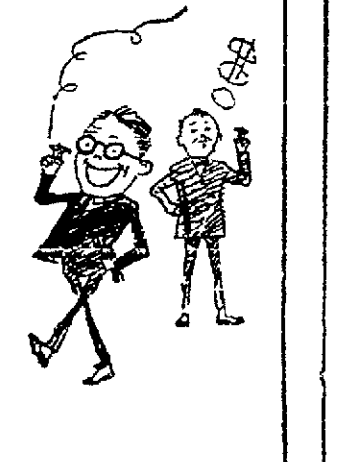

"Reynolds ought to get a dollar for every Camel cigarette," Mr. Holt declared. "Why my boy Camels are simply wonderful," he added. "Don't ever let anybody talk about mild cigarettes compared with Camels! I know! (Get that, Pete). I've proved it to a hundred smokers that Camels are the mellowerest and most refreshing cigarette in the world." Etc., Etc.

Pete, Camels won Mr. Holt like they won me—on their quality! After hearing him cut loose, I feel like saying: "you tell it, old parcel post, I can't express it!"

Pete, I'm hatching an idea about Camels. I'll spill it your direction next time I write! It's what York State folks call a "pip-ing." And it's ripe!

You tell the next fire-up.

Shorty.

Salaries of Teachers

Increase in California
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—The salaries of principals in the high schools have increased 50 percent since 1913, according to a compilation of twenty-four California cities just completed by Will C. Wood, State superintendent of public instruction. The figures do not include any of the high schools in the bay cities. Wood's statement said: "The average of city high school principals in 1913 was $2330. In 1920 it is $3500."
The average minimum salary for teachers in 1913 was $1140, in 1920 it is $1713. This is the salary paid to beginners after five years of college training. The average maximum salary for teachers in 1913 was $1920, in 1920 it is $2244.

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 22.—When a seventh son is born in Argentina, the president of the Republic becomes his godfather, according to a custom. O'CONNELL MUST

SERVE JAIL TERM

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Daniel O'Connell, attorney and former executive officer of the defunct American Patriots, Inc., in all likelihood will be taken into custody tomorrow after two years' liberty on bail, to serve a seven-year sentence in a federal prison for a violation of the espionage act.
A mandate from the United States Supreme Court ordering him to prison was received today by United States Attorney Frank M. Silva, and follows within a short time the denial by the high court of a writ of review. The mandate will be entered on the records of the district court tomorrow, Silva said. It becomes official immediately and O'Connell will be taken into custody. Dr. E. R. Hoffman of San Mateo, who was sentenced to five years on a similar charge, Carl S. Wachter, sentenced to 18 months, and Thomas Carey, sentenced to two years, all are to be taken into custody at the same time.
David and Herman Smith, youths who were given sentence of one year in the county jail for a similar violation, were recently pardoned by President Wilson.
O'Connell and his associates were connected with the American Patriots, Inc., an organization which was seeking to bring about operation of the selective service act.

MRS. MARY C. GRAY

GIVES TESTIMONY

Had Forgotten What It Was to Enjoy Good Health, Says Los Angeles Woman.

"I have taken only two bottles of Tanlac, but it's the truth, my troubles that made life miserable for me for years have entirely gone," was the emphatic statement made recently by Mrs. Mary C. Gray of 1814 West Thirty-ninth place, Los Angeles.
"I guess I had just about as bad a case of stomach trouble as anyone can have, and it had bothered me so long I had forgotten what it was to ever feel well. My appetite was fairly good, I mean by that I could eat, but it seemed that every bite gave me the indigestion. The gas on my stomach was awful, and it caused bloating, sourness and palpitation of the heart. About seven years ago rheumatism set in in my shoulders, legs and joints and it got so bad that at times I could hardly walk or move about at all. The rheumatism spread to my arms, and my elbows and wrists began to pain me awfully. This alarmed me and I realized that something had to be done before it was too late.
"I decided to try Tanlac to see if it would help me like it seemed to be helping everybody else who tried it. By the time I finished half of the first bottle I felt a great relief, and that encouraged me, so I kept taking it. I now feel better than I have at any time during the past ten years. The pains have all gone and I never feel even so much as a trace of the rheumatism now. My digestion is just splendid and everything I eat tastes good and agrees with me perfectly. I feel stronger and more energetic than I have in years.
"I am glad to be able to tell others about Tanlac."
Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Store, and Eberly's Quality Pharmacy, Alameda.—Advertisement.

MY HEART

MY HUSBAND

Dicky flung open the door, brushed past her, evidently never seeing her as she left the room. The next minute he was on his knees by my bedside.
"Sweetheart! Sweetheart!" he groaned. "To think I didn't realize you were hurt so badly, for I suppose that must be the reason for Grantland's bringing you home. Are you sure you're all right? I just felt something was wrong after a few minutes' wait, so I left the old boat by the road and started to hoof it after you. Got a hit and then found you hadn't been at the little house. Then I beat it here, nearly crazy, for you ever forgive your boy for being so headless."
And almost any woman can guess my answer.
With Dicky's hands holding mine tightly, protectively, with Dicky's face tenderly close to mine, I drifted off to the restful slumber I so sorely needed after my accident. When I awoke darkness had come. I saw that Dicky had gone and that another familiar figure sat near my bedside.
"Lillian!" I exclaimed feebly but gladly. "Not even my husband could give me the feeling of childish security which the very presence of my friend afforded me."
"You dear child!" she said softly, and coming over to the bed kissed me tenderly. "To think that I should have chosen this day of all others in the calendar to take Marion to the city! Not that I could have done any more for you than the others have done."
"Yes, you could," I interrupted whimsically. "You could have kept me from being a whimpering baby. I don't think I'd dare to whimper with you looking on, you're always so brave."
A TROUBLED MEMORY
"Never mind the nonsense, for me," she returned. "Better pin some on yourself. They tell me you were very plucky under the pain."
"Mother Graham for one, your father for two, Katie for three, and—Major Grantland for four." Lillian checked the names off as would a child upon her fingers, smiling at me the while. I wonder if I had fancied her hesitation before the official flash of a hospital room and Lillian's voice saying gravely, meaningly, "You haven't a very good perspective just now, Madge. Better change it before you go on with your drawing."
I felt my face flushing hotly at the remembrance, knew that even the dim night light could not hide my sudden color from Lillian's keen eyes and was furious at myself for my weakness. She had read me so clearly during that long, past emotional brain storm of mine that I wondered—
"Is she asleep?"
The clear, vibrant voice of Her Fluffiness came from the doorway. For once I was glad of an interruption in a talk with Lillian, something which usually irritates me. But I wanted a change in the subject of my thoughts, and that quickly.
"I've been afraid, a returned, pretending not to see Lillian's gesture of protest. "Come in Mrs. Durkee. Don't you think, Lillian, we could have a little more light?"
"That's up to your ladyship," Lillian said lightly, moving as she spoke to the table and increasing the current on the light.
Her Fluffiness came to the bedside, looked down at me brightly. "Feeling better, dear?" she asked, her voice brimming with warm-hearted sympathy. "Have you had anything to eat? I brought up some invalids."
Fond of good food herself, she is a most intractable patient when she is ill, demanding all sorts of dishes impossible for her to have. And when she is installed as nurse to any of her friends, the only fault that can be found with her, for she is otherwise admirable in a sick room, is her weakness for giving her patient surreptitious dainties.
Her Fluffiness pouted prettily. "You needn't laugh," she said. "I'll bet you're as hungry as a wolf this minute. Shall I go down and fix you something tasty?"
"You'd break Katie's heart if you did," Lillian smiled. "She's been on tender hooks for the last hour waiting the signal to bring up some wonderful sickroom concoction which Dr. Gibson sanctioned. I believe she waylaid him in the hall as he went out to find out just what she could fix for Miss Graham! But there'll be nothing doing—with capitals—in the food line until I do a stunt with a thermometer around her neck."
She took her clinical thermometer from its case, shook it down, deftly inserted it under my tongue, inspected it carefully when she had removed it.
"You're a wonder, Madge," she said. "You'll be getting on your feet in no time. Now I'll bulletin Katie that she may bring on her wonderful dish."
"You'd better bulletin that Major Grantland while you're about it," Lillian Mrs. Durkee put in slyly. "He's decorating my front porch, and I'm afraid the undertaker will mistake him for a piece of crape and come in, he looks so doleful."

"Pacific Service" to Its Electric Power Consumers

The following order, No. 113, effective as of August 19th, has been issued by the Power Administrator of the Railroad Commission of the State of California:

- (1) The use of electric energy for power purposes, except domestic use and use in connection with growing crops and handling of perishable foods, shall be reduced 20 per cent.
- (2) The use of electric energy for the irrigation of vacant lands and of lands from which crops have already been harvested shall not be permitted during the present shortage.
- (3) The attention of consumers of power for the irrigation of growing crops shall be called to the fact that unless a large reduction is voluntarily made, drastic restrictions will become necessary.
- (4) The power companies shall direct the attention of the city officials in their territory to the fact that electric energy used in street, sign and display lighting is being lost for productive purposes, and shall urge them to restrict this use, as far as may be consistent with public safety.
- (5) The above reductions in the use of electric energy shall be made, as far as possible, between the hours of 7 A. M. and 10 P. M.

We respectfully urge our consumers to realize the importance of this order, which applies to all power companies operating in North-Central California. It has been made necessary by the shortage of water power occasioned by the unusual drought and consequent extreme diminution of stream flow in the power sources of the State, to say nothing of the constantly growing demand for power for agricultural, industrial and other purposes.

We ask our consumers to assist the Power Administrator and ourselves in prompt compliance with this order, so that the various industries relying upon electric power for their operation and maintenance may not be called upon to suffer a further reduction of supply before the close of the present dry season.

to the table and increasing the current on the light.
Her Fluffiness came to the bedside, looked down at me brightly. "Feeling better, dear?" she asked, her voice brimming with warm-hearted sympathy. "Have you had anything to eat? I brought up some invalids."
Fond of good food herself, she is a most intractable patient when she is ill, demanding all sorts of dishes impossible for her to have. And when she is installed as nurse to any of her friends, the only fault that can be found with her, for she is otherwise admirable in a sick room, is her weakness for giving her patient surreptitious dainties.
Her Fluffiness pouted prettily. "You needn't laugh," she said. "I'll bet you're as hungry as a wolf this minute. Shall I go down and fix you something tasty?"
"You'd break Katie's heart if you did," Lillian smiled. "She's been on tender hooks for the last hour waiting the signal to bring up some wonderful sickroom concoction which Dr. Gibson sanctioned. I believe she waylaid him in the hall as he went out to find out just what she could fix for Miss Graham! But there'll be nothing doing—with capitals—in the food line until I do a stunt with a thermometer around her neck."
She took her clinical thermometer from its case, shook it down, deftly inserted it under my tongue, inspected it carefully when she had removed it.
"You're a wonder, Madge," she said. "You'll be getting on your feet in no time. Now I'll bulletin Katie that she may bring on her wonderful dish."
"You'd better bulletin that Major Grantland while you're about it," Lillian Mrs. Durkee put in slyly. "He's decorating my front porch, and I'm afraid the undertaker will mistake him for a piece of crape and come in, he looks so doleful."

Soap and Water Sweetness
Soap and water sweetness is a religion in our laundry. Floors, washers, tables, racks—everything with which your clothes or the people who handle them come into contact—are scrubbed with oceans of fresh, boiling water and bubbling soap suds every day.
There's the secret of the radiant cleanliness which you will find in our laundry—that's one of the reasons for the fresh, fragrant purity of the clothes we send home to you.
This old-fashioned gospel of soap and water cleanliness means salvation for your family linen. A trial will convert you—name the day, and the hour for our route representative to call and he'll be there on the dot.

The Part the Laundry Plays In Back-to-School Days

Back-to-school days are here—more work and less help for mother.

Clothes to be gotten into shape— youngsters to be dressed and fussed over—little folks too busy and excited to be much use around the house.

But fortunately for mother she has no longer to worry about the clean clothes problem—each week she is sending her family bundle to one of the modern laundries of the East Bay Cities. She's always sure of a liberal supply of clean things without any of the old-time slaving over a wash-tub, or waiting on and watching over careless laundresses. The spick-and-spanness so noticeable in school children is a laundry product.

Why not give the kiddies, and yourself, the benefit of it?

A minute at the phone will bring a route representative from any one of the modern laundries of the East Bay Cities. Have one of them take over your washday worries and your family bundle.

Traffic Men of Nation Begin Convention in San Francisco

PARADE STARTS SESSION; MAYOR HANDS OVER KEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—With the opening today of the convention of traffic officers, delegates to which have assembled here from every principal city of the United States, and from several foreign lands as well, promulgation of a uniform national code of traffic regulations has begun. When this code is completed it will be formally adopted and taken back to every state with the national organization of the traffic officers of the country back of it to secure its adoption at the next sessions of the various legislatures.

A long parade from the Ferry building to the Exposition Auditorium formally opened the convention this morning. This afternoon the first session of the convention proper was being held in the auditorium, with Lieutenant Daniel A. Sylvester of the San Francisco police force in the chair as national president of the traffic officers of the United States.

Mayor Ralph made the formal address of welcome, presenting the key to the city to the visitors. Lieutenant Sylvester will reply on behalf of the traffic officers' organization.

Theodore J. Roche, president of the board of police commissioners, was programmed to speak, while C. M. Talbert, police commissioner of St. Louis, Mo., was to make the concluding address of the afternoon.

In the morning parade from the ferry building, policemen, mounted and on foot, of the San Francisco department, delegates and divisions of the Automobile Trades Association, city and county officials from Eastbay communities, a Curtis airplane traveling under its own power, the Seattle police band and other organizations participated.

One of the most important matters to come up before the delegates today was the appointment of twelve committees to draft and submit all of the important measures to come before the delegates. Under present plans the delegates will be the guests of the city of Oakland next Thursday afternoon, including a tour of the Easton region.

GIRL CHARGED WITH BATTERY PLEADS GUILTY

Miss Rose Lewis, otherwise known as "Vampire Rose," appeared before Judge Harry W. Pulcifer this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of battery for her assault upon Miss Emma Fazio. Both are employees of the California Packing Corporation's plant in Emeryville, where the trouble occurred last Tuesday.

Miss Fazio declared her assailant used a brass plug for her third blow, after striking her twice with her fist. She said the first two blows split her lip, which required two stitches, and blinded her eye, while the last one fractured her nose.

"I never used a brass plug, Judge. I just hit her with my fist. I always fight fair. I have two witnesses to say I never did it."

This was the declaration of the accused, interjected between sentences of the complainant. But when Judge Pulcifer asked for her witnesses she said she was a girl who didn't come to work Saturday, so she couldn't be asked to appear in court, and the other was a boy who didn't like to come, so her own testimony was the sole evidence for the defense.

Miss Florence Causse, who works next to Miss Fazio, testified that she took the brass plug away from Miss Lewis, who had picked it up after two blows with her fist.

The defendant said the trouble started the day before in the dressing room, when Miss Fazio called the other's sister a "bad name." Miss Fazio retorted that Miss Lewis called her sister the same thing, which Miss Lewis denied.

Judge Pulcifer set Wednesday morning for sentences.

NEW CONSTITUTION FOR CALIFORNIA IS LEGIONAIRES IDEA

Adoption of a new constitution for California, consolidation of boards and commissions of the State, formation of a governor's cabinet, preservation of State forests, compulsory registration and expatriation of "conscientious objectors," are some of the proposals to be made by Oakland's delegation to the State convention of the American Legion now in session at San Diego.

The most drastic proposal is for the constitutional convention to re-draft a State constitution which will clearly establish the fundamental law of the State, that the machinery of California's government can be operated by modern, efficient and thoroughly business-like methods. This includes the framing of laws in such a way that everyone can understand them, of the wiping off the statute books of dead laws.

CABINET PLAN.
A governor's administrative cabinet proposed would be composed of the department heads, and would cooperate in determining policies, eliminating friction and have corresponding the same functions as the President's cabinet.

The resolution asking the State Legislature to impose certain restrictions on timber and logging companies has for its purpose the conservation of the timber supply of the country through the preservation of the young growth.

VETERANS' HOMES.
Still another resolution proposes the betterment of conditions at the various State War Veterans' homes.

The resolution against "conscientious objectors" asks that all persons "who for religious or creed reasons object to fighting, be required to register with a State board and to so state their reasons for refusing to take up arms in defense of the United States in case of an invasion." It also asks that these persons, after registering, forever forfeit their citizenship rights and that in case of another war they be prohibited from joining any of the armed forces of the United States.

Enrollment for the 1920-21 term of school began this morning and at noon practically 20,000 pupils had registered in Oakland. Forty thousand are expected to register before the day is over.

Indications from the enrollment rush are that the largest number of pupils that ever attended the Oakland schools will be recorded. The percentage of increase is larger than a week.

Old students registered this morning at the Oakland High School and this afternoon new students are registering. This same program prevails at Fremont High School, while it is covered at the Oakland Technical high school. At both the University and Vocational high schools both new and old registrants were accepted at 9 o'clock.

Examinations for high school entrants who have no proper credentials, or who come from other states, are being held throughout the day.

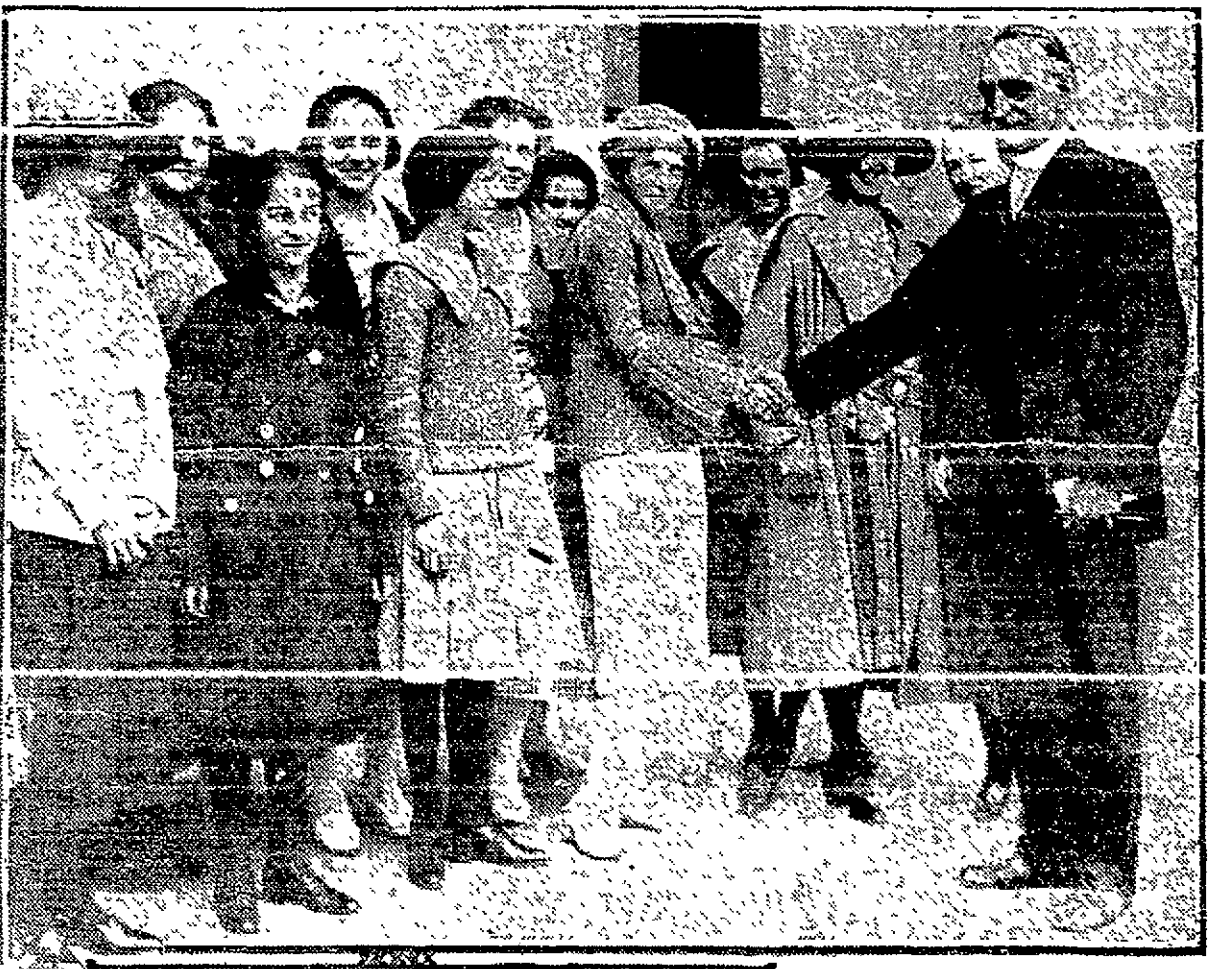

From the heavy registration this morning the high school registrations are expected to total 7000 pupils, kindergartens 3000 and elementary 26,000. The evening classes, which will add nearly $800 to today's registration, will be opened tonight.

BORDER AGAIN OPEN.
Instruction from Washington, the Mexican border at Tijuana was thrown open today. The same rules in force prior to the closing obtained. Both temporary and permanent passports were issued to all who asked them.

There are present a delegation from the Portland Chamber of Commerce and the Oregon State Motor Association, as well as representatives from the Department of Commerce and the Department of the Interior. Seattle's police band of fifty pieces will attend the convention.

Among the prominent delegates are: Captain H. A. Lewis, Portland; Chief L. V. Jenkins, Portland; Chief Searing, Seattle; Chief William McRae, Vancouver; E. W. Braun, secretary Chamber of Commerce, Elgin, Ill.; Frank Guilbert, National Parks

Enrollment for 1920-21 Term Will Approach 40,000; Old Line at Technical Is Abandoned

UNDERTAKERS LEAVE FUNERAL FACES AT HOME

Having been denied any general participation in frivolity by the very nature of their calling, since they "stepped out" at the annual festivities a year ago, the funeral directors propose to make up for lost time.

There are to be two dances and a theater party within three nights, and all for the undertakers.

Aside from the practical and instructive program for the sixteenth annual convention of the California funeral directors, opening tomorrow morning at Hotel Oakland for a three-day session, the entertainment features have proved a noble drawing card.

An informal reception will precede the opening this evening at Hotel Oakland. Tomorrow evening the delegates and their friends will be the guests of H. P. Bertleson of Hollywood, representing one of the leading supply houses, at an informal dance in the rose room of the hotel.

The commercial men will hold a theater party on Wednesday night and on Thursday evening the annual ball of the association will be held at the Dairy Farm Inn, following a chicken supper, which will supersede the annual banquet. John J. Cox is chairman of the theater committee and J. H. Lowman, of Alameda, is in charge of arrangements for the annual ball. Frank Weltz of Santa Rosa, state president, will preside.
